Re: Primitivo Robles v. HG Putnam, Inc.
1:24-cv-07548-JAV--OTW

Dear Judge Wang:

I write to respectfully advise the Court of a recent administrative oversight concerning the above-referenced matter.

Due to staffing transitions within our office — including a physical relocation of our main office approximately 20 blocks south — we mistakenly presumed that this case had been voluntarily dismissed several months ago. At that time, a former attorney, who was soon to begin maternity leave, had been tasked with closing several Title III matters, including this one. Regrettably, it now appears that the necessary filings were not completed, and the case remained open on the docket.

We only became aware of this oversight upon receipt of notice earlier today regarding the Initial Case Conference scheduled for tomorrow. I sincerely apologize for the delay in notifying the Court and for any inconvenience this may have caused. The firm regrets this miscommunication and remains committed to taking prompt corrective action, including the voluntary dismissal of this matter.

Sincerely,

Jon L. Norinsberg, Esq.
